

Mercy Primary blog wins the Junior Spider Award

THE WINNERS of the 2010 eircom Junior Spider Awards were announced at a reception in the Helix in DCU, hosted by RTE's and 98FM's Aidan Power. The Awards recognise and reward the most talented and innovative Internet users in primary and secondary schools across Ireland received a huge response from schools throughout the country this year.

Our Lady of Mercy Primary School, Sligo picked up the Best Blog Award for msleydonsclass.blogspot.com The awards were open to students at both primary and post primary level. At primary school level there were three categories - Best School Website, Best School Blog and Best Project. At post primary level, the categories were split across 2 groups: 1st to 3rd year and 4th to 6th year. The categories under both age groups include Best Concept and Best Web Design. Carolan Lennon, Chief Commercial Officer, eircom and Chairperson of the Judging Panel said, "It is so encouraging to see such skill, originality and innovation".

■ Our Lady of Mercy Primary Principal, Marguerite Stenson accepts the Spider Award.